授業の概要及び位置づけ/Course overview	The class will focus on improving students' basic English skills in listening, speaking and reading through listening experiences and language production exercises in class. It will be assumed that students come to the class with a rather extensive understanding of English vocabulary and grammar, but their ability to produce the language is relatively underdeveloped. Basic vocabulary and grammatical forms will be reviewed in a way that will give them extensive practice in both listening to and producing, in the form of speaking, these in a way to facilitate their active familiarity of the language. As much as possible the exercises will be presented in practical situations so that the language can be seen as relating to meaningful use. Homework will focus on grammar and reading comprehension exercises in English, as well as preparing materials to be used in

備考/Remarks	As for my classes in 2023, all of my classes will be conducted in person. (対面で実施します。)
学生へのメッセージ/Message for students	Learning grammar and vocabulary requires study and exposure to reading texts, so the TOEIC book and its homework will provide students with this as well as the exercises in the Breakthrough text. Speaking and listening are skills which require practice, so the class time will be devoted to exercises which will provide students with ample chances to practice useful English in a relatively controlled environment. One important goal is to have the students listening to and/or producing English for as many minutes as possible during the 90-minute class. Therefore, students should be prepared to be diligent in their homework and active in the classroom.

授業の概要及び位置づけ/Course overview	The class will focus on improving students' basic English skills in listening, speaking and reading through listening experiences and language production exercises in class. It will be assumed that students come to the class with a rather extensive understanding of English vocabulary and grammar, but their ability to produce the language is relatively underdeveloped. Basic vocabulary and grammatical forms will be reviewed in a way that will give them extensive practice in both listening to and producing, in the form of speaking, these in a way to facilitate their active familiarity of the language. As much as possible the exercises will be presented in practical situations so that the language can be seen as relating to meaningful use. Homework will focus on grammar and reading comprehension exercises in English, as well as preparing materials to be used in

学生へのメッセージ/Message for students	Learning grammar and vocabulary requires study and exposure to reading texts, so the TOEIC book and its homework will provide students with this as well as the exercises in the Breakthrough text. Speaking and listening are skills which require practice, so the class time will be devoted to exercises which will provide students with ample chances to practice useful English in a relatively controlled environment. One important goal is to have the students listening to and/or producing English for as many minutes as possible during the 90-minute class. Therefore, students should be prepared to be diligent in their homework and active in the classroom.
