

SPU and NU Joint Symposium on the Opening of Halabja Research Center

Effects of Chemical Weapon on Environment, Soil, and Community Health Outcome, in Kurdistan / Halabja

Date: July 27th, 2021

Time: 5:00pm-7:00pm (Japan time zone)

Venue: <https://zoom.us/j/> (No pre-register required)

Program:

1. Welcome and Opening of the Symposium

Prof. Kazuhiko Moji

Dean, Nagasaki University School of Global Humanities and Social Sciences
Professor and Director of Department of Global Health,
School of Tropical Medicine and Global Health

2. クルディスタン入門：初心者のためのガイド

Kurdistan: A Beginner's Guide (Japanese)

Abdurrahman Gülbeyaz

School of Global Humanities and Social Sciences, Nagasaki University

3. There is no such a thing as a perfect rehabilitation: The historical experiences of Nagasaki after the atomic bombing

Hibiki Yamaguchi

RECNA, Nagasaki University

4. Japan's environment-health issues from the latter half of 20th century – Minamata, dioxins, and after

Chiho Watanabe

Nagasaki University

The University of Tokyo former President, National Institute for Environmental Studies

5. Long Term Consequences of Chemical Weapons on Public Health

Dr. Halgord Ali M.Farag

Sulaimani Polytechnic University

6. Persistence of Health Implications of Chemical Warfare Agent in the Environment

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Karzan Abdulla

Sulaimani Polytechnic University

7. Effect of Mustard Gas on Microbial Diversity in Soil of Halabja

M. Syamand Ahmed Qader

Sulaimani Polytechnic University

8. Closing Remarks

Prof. Dr. Soran Saeed

Vice President for Scientific Affairs

Sulaimani Polytechnic University