授業のねらい・内容・方法
The aim of this course is to give learners opportunities to practice English speaking and listening skills by presenting about their interests. Reading and writing will also be practiced weekly in class. We will concentrate on interactive group project work, as well as developing organizational skills, including note taking and record keeping. Students will prepare and do three presentations. Students should be prepared to do homework such as reading and poster creation.
テキスト、教材等
There will be no textbook, but students are required to buy a package of Graded Readers, a notebook, and a Clearbook for keeping class handouts.
